

Cuppa helps boost Fiji coffers

Two Linlithgow teenagers have organised a charity coffee morning tomorrow (Saturday).

Any cash raised at the St Michael's Church Hall event will go into the pot to get Libby Peters and Lauren Macleod to Fiji for two weeks as volunteer workers with the charity Projects Abroad.

Whilst there, they will help build and decorate local schools and nurseries as well as care for and teach some of the island's disadvantaged children.

In order to do this they need to raise £3000 each and have embarked upon a series of fundraisers. They recently completed a sponsored cycle from Glasgow to Edinburgh.

And tomorrow there will be second-hand books for sale, a nail bar for the ladies, a raffle, painting for the children plus an assortment of home-baked cakes and refreshments on offer from 10am-noon.
